

Yes, I would like to be a contributing member of the ESTIA community

Subscribing Member: $25

Student Member: $15

Supporting Member: $100

Sponsoring Member: $1,000

Contribution Amount: $ _____

Name: _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____

E-mail: _____

Or please donate online at
www.estiamaine.org

ESTIA is a 501 (C) (3) non-profit organization.

ESTIA EPICENTER

P.O. Box 139
Bangor, Maine
04402

www.estiamaine.org

ESTIA EPICENTER FOR ECOPEACE AND SUSTAINABILITY

ESTIA

EcoPeace
Sustainability
Training
International Affiliations

International Living and Learning
Permaculture
Community Center

P.O. Box 139
Bangor, Maine 04402

A non-profit, non-governmental organization dedicated to the protection of cultural and biological diversity and the preservation of biotic systems.

An educational learning community pioneering an integrative human-ecological approach to education and community development on issues of peace and sustainability.

A model and a catalyst in the promotion of peaceful co-existence benefiting the local and the global community

ESTIA EPICENTER

Bucksport, Maine

EcoPeace educators are called to be midwives to a new EcoPeace culture that is emerging and which is based on Three Core Components:

- Our non-violent relationship with the natural world;
- Our relationship with each other, in terms of politics and social issues;
- Our relationship with ourselves in terms of health, personal growth and spirituality unity.

ESTIA's Mission

ESTIA is a Maine-based ecological organization that promotes and facilitates sustainability and peace through education.

Since 2004, ESTIA has been a catalyst for the promotion of peace and sustainable living.

ESTIA has succeeded through many community-building and innovative educational opportunities in Maine and beyond, including Paradise Island, Hawaii, Sicily, and Cyprus.

ESTIA has connected, influenced and inspired many students, community members, and community and university leaders.

In 2009, through a generous and far-reaching donation, ESTIA acquired property which has become a place where people can come together to share and learn, to celebrate and reflect, and to explore and understand sustainability to greater depths. It is a place where education happens, where the land welcomes learning and where relationships can be more deeply developed.

The establishment of the ESTIA Epicenter for EcoPeace and Sustainability in Bucksport, Maine has enabled ESTIA to provide a regular series of workshops and community-building events and to further encourage and support the growing network of people moving toward a more sustainable and peaceful way of life.

To learn more about our past events, visit the ESTIA website: www.estiamaine.org

2012-2013 ESTIA EVENTS

2012

- ESTIA Epicenter Design Implementation
- Permaculture Design Certification Course (PDC) offered at the ESTIA Epicenter
- 9th Annual ESTIA EcoPeace Conference – “Slow Food: A Model for Sustainable and Healthy Living” University of Maine

2013

- Awakening the Dreamer, Changing the Dream Symposium with the Pachamama Alliance at UMaine
- Permaculture Design Certification Course (PDC) offered at the ESTIA Epicenter.
- 10th Annual EcoPeace Conference “Reclaiming the Water Commons: Cultivating Permanent Culture in Maine”

ESTIA

P.O. Box 139
Bangor, Maine
04402